

Get On The Bus Allenstown – Thursday, March 10th from 6-7pm

Come to a 1 hour Zoom meeting to learn about school funding and your property taxes:

- Inadequate state funding for our children's education creates tremendous hardships for property-poor towns who must rely on high local property tax rates to make up the difference and to fund school budgets often already cut to the bone.
- Differences in property values among cities and towns mean that this heavy reliance on the property tax often falls most heavily on those least able to afford it.

THIS IS A ZOOM WEBINAR THAT YOU MUST REGISTER FOR IN ORDER TO RECEIVE THE MEETING LINK TO ATTEND.

Get On The Bus Zoom Registration Link

Presented by: NH School Funding Fairness Project - (NHSFFP) is a non-partisan non-profit organization dedicated to using grassroots and legislative advocacy to raise awareness of, and spearhead a comprehensive solution to, the twin crises of inequitable school funding and property taxes in the Granite State. Over the past three years they have presented all over the state to the public, business leaders, civic organizations, parent and teacher groups, and everyone in between. They are embarking on a 25-town tour to continue educating Granite Staters on the inequities in the state's school funding system and empower citizens to take action.